DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 18-27 and 36 are rejected under 35 USC §102(b)/13(a). This rejection is set forth in the prior Office action mailed on August 06, 2004. Note that claim 21 that by a typographical error was not included in the listing of the rejected claims, has been included now. Page 3, line 1 of the previous office action, clearly includes claim 21 as one of the rejected claims.

Claims 28-33 are rejected under 35 USC §103(a). This rejection is set forth in the prior Office action mailed on August 06, 2004.

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed on November 08, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants argue that the cited reference does not teach the coagulation of the transitional metals as it is now claimed and that the cited reference teaches the addition of alkaline earth metals to the water. This is not convincing because, the coagulation of the claimed materials Must be inherent to the process of the cited reference since the same process liquid is treated with the same substance, i.e., CO<sub>2</sub>, and the pH is maintained to the same range, see previous rejection. As to the use of alkaline earth metals, this is also unconvincing for two reasons: 1) the claims are open to any other treatment of the process liquid and 2) the same alkaline materials are disclosed by applicants as part of the process liquid, i.e., the process water that applicants treat contains alkaline earth metals,

Calcium for example, this indicates that the application/addition of such metals would not be deterrent to the coagulation of the transitional metals.

2. In response to applicant's argument that the examiner's conclusion of obviousness is based upon improper hindsight reasoning, it must be recognized that any judgment on obviousness is in a sense necessarily a reconstruction based upon hindsight reasoning. But so long as it takes into account only knowledge which was within the level of ordinary skill at the time the claimed invention was made, and does not include knowledge gleaned only from the applicant's disclosure, such a reconstruction is proper. See In re McLaughlin, 443 F.2d 1392, 170 USPQ 209 (CCPA 1971).

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
